

Some useful links for printing and mounting resources

For on-line print services, DS Colour Labs are very good and reasonably priced.

<https://www.dscolourlabs.co.uk/>

For mount board, I use Paper Spectrum. They have a range of mount board cut to size, including 40 x 50cm, both with and without pre-cut apertures. They also do pre-cut backing boards.

<https://paperspectrum.co.uk/>

Printing paper is a very personal choice. If you are printing your own, photopaperdirect UK are good value.

<https://photopaperdirect.com/>

Fotospeed papers are excellent but more expensive. Discount codes are available if you follow Fotospeed's YouTube channel. They also have a paper/printer profiling service.

<https://fotospeed.com/>

Keith Cooper of Northlight Images has some excellent YouTube videos on printing, including printer reviews and how to get the best out of your printer, with advice on ICC profiles. Well worth a look if you are considering making your own prints.